For the Argus.

HOPE.

Through all life's dark and changeful scenes,
There still a bright spot intervenes;
Though dense the mist that gathers round
This small clear spot will yet be found.

Though often it may dimly gleam,
And life a darksome mist may seem;
From us 'twill never wholly fade,
But, still extend its genial aid.

'Twill shine at morn, at noon, at eve,
The burdened soul to well relieve;
And over earth's darkest scenes 'twill fling
A halo which nought else can bring.

When mirth grows less, and pleasures wane,
And sweet content doth not remain,
There is a beam that breaks the gloom
And doth the darkest way relume.

It brings its soothing influence near,
Allays our grief, dispels each fear
When grim despair our souls would claim,
To bring relief is still its aim.

Like beacon light 'twill round us play,
When love and friendships fast decay;
When fortune frowns and ills await,
This doth the heart resuscitate.

'Tis hope that ever triumphs here,
Creates a smile, and checks the tear;
This radiant beam still lingers round,
Through weal and woe its light is found.

It bids us look for lasting peace
When we from friends shall find release;
Points to that ever-during goal;
Where dwells the spotless ransom'd soul.

How to Tell a Tory.

He curses the Abolitionists, damns the black Republicans, and is dreadfully sarcage on the "free niggers."—He is terribly distressed about the suspension of the habeas corpus, and rages about Fort Lafayette and "the Bastile." He is very much afraid there will be an insurrection among the slaves, but is perfectly easy about the insurrection of the masters. He villifies the President and wishes he had sunk to the bottom of the ocean. He is wonderfully exercised on the subject of political preaching, but believes in Vandyke and the divinity of slavery. He talks a great deal about the enormous war debt, and is alarmed at the "bankrupting flood" of green backs. He thinks the soldiers haven't any right to vote. He doubts whether Rosecrans was victorious at Murfreesboro, and don't care whether he was or not. You can tell him at a glance in a crowd around the bulletin board, for the flush of patriotic joy is absent from his eye, as the news of a brilliant victory is heralded from the Army of the Republic, while the intelligence of a defeat draws from him the the exclamation, "you can never subjugate the South."—Wash. Rep.

ANOTHER CHIVALROUS LIE.—Our readers will remember how the Northern press and people, and even Secretary Welles, were blinded by the reports from Richmond that the first Merrimac was a "dead failure." The same reports, in a still more exaggerated form, are again being set afloat in regard the "Merrimac No. 2." We are told that she is moved about by scows on each side, and even then careens so badly as to be unfit for use. How do these rebels correspond with the following from Fortress Monroe correspondence of Jan. 22d?

"On Monday last the new rebel ram "Merrimac No. 2," came down James River as far as Newport News, and after lying off that point for some hours, turned her nose about, and steamed up towards Richmond again. It chanced that on that day there was not a single iron-clad in the Roads, nor between here and Fortress Monroe, and if the new Merrimac is at all equal to her predecessor, there was nothing on that day that would have prevented her from coming up to Norfolk and shelling us out. But she would find something worthy of her metal, if she should make the attempt now."

RUSSELL AND THE GERMAN.—Russell, in his diary, gives the following account of a reception he got at the hands of a German soldier: "On the 1st of September a dirty German soldier called out from the parapet of an earthwork, over the Long Bridge, 'Pull Run Russell,' and at the same time cocked his piece and levelled it. Russell immediately rode around into the fort, the fellow still presenting his firelock, and asked him what he meant, at the same time calling for the sergeant of the guard, who came at once, and at his request arrested the man, who recovered arms and said, 'It was a choake; I want to freeken Pull Run Russell.' As the man's rifle was capped and loaded, and on full cock, Russell did not see the fun of the proceeding so clearly, and urged an investigation into his conduct, which he did not, however, think it necessary to pursue."

☞ A newspaper in noticing the presentation of a silver cup to a co-temporary says: "He needs no cup. He can drink from any vessel that contains liquor—whether the neck of a bottle, the mouth of demijohn, the spile of a keg, or the bung-hole of a barrel."

[From the Cleveland (Ohio) Herald.]

How Gamblers Rob their Victims—A Startling Discovery—Gambling Telegraph.

The Cook gambling affair has led to some important disclosures in the affairs of the "sporting fraternity," but nothing as we have yet seen or heard of equals in interest a discovery made in this city yesterday.

Conlisk, one of the men concerned in "fleecing" the Paymaster Cook, was a frequent visitor to this city, and occupied rooms in the third story of the Parsell Block, on Superior street. He had contracted debts here, and yesterday an attachment was issued against the property in his rooms. Sheriff Wells and Deputy Sheriff Whitney went to serve the attachment, and in the course of their researches made some rich discoveries.

The rooms occupied by Conlisk on the third floor consist of a sitting-room, where the gambling was done, and a bed-room. The sitting-room was furnished in the usual manner, and had a faro-table near the windows and a draw-poker table in the center of the room, with chairs placed to each. The walls and ceiling of the room are papered, with paper of a star pattern.

Directly over the rooms are two small rooms, also occupied by Conlisk, but not furnished. A portion of the flooring has been removed in the room immediately over the gambling room, and a small hole bored through the ceiling of the room below, above each of the tables. As the holes come directly through the center of a star pattern in the paper, they are scarcely distinguishable from below. Each hole is so placed as to enable a person applying his eye to it, to look directly into the hand of the player seated in the chair below.

An ingenious telegraphic signal machine was discovered communicating between those holes in the room above and the chair of the gambler in the room below. A wire, having a handle near the hole, passed along between the flooring of the room above and the ceiling of the room below to the corner of the gambling room and bed-room. It enters the bedroom and passes down in the corner, being concealed by a strip of board nailed up and [illegible] where the left foot of the gambler would be placed while playing. There it terminates in a spring and hammer, concealed by the carpet.

The method of working this invention for robbing by machinery seems to have been as follows: The victim to be operated upon finds two chairs drawn up to the table. In one of these the gambling thief seats himself at once, placing his foot over the telegraph hammer. The victim is obliged to take the other, which is placed in the proper position for playing. The gambler's accomplice in the room above stretches himself on a mattress, with his eye at the peep-hole—and one hand grasping the telegraph handle. The hole is so placed that he can look directly down into the hand of his victim. As soon as he sees the cards he telegraphs their description according to an arranged code of signals by pulling the handle when the hammer strikes the desired number of raps on the sole of the gambler's boot or slipper, the sound being muffled by the carpet. Of course it is easy to see that the man who sits down to play with such a gambler is robbed as surely, completely and systematically as if he had been bound hand and foot and delivered over to a highwayman, and of the two robbers, the highwayman would be the more decent man.

These rooms have been occupied at various times by Conlisk, Major Barker, and other gamblers, residents of this city. Some highly respectable citizens that we could name have visited those rooms, and undoubtedly "fought the tiger" without a shadow of a chance against its teeth and claws.

There are other rooms in this city used for gambling purposes, which are frequented by some of our best citizens, who would dread to see their names published, and whose names, if published, would startle and shock their friends and the public. Are there no "telegraphs" in these rooms?

AWFUL AND SOLEMN DEATH.—The Scotch papers report and incident, which though it involves only one life, contains more of the true elements of horror, strikes more sharply in the fine chords of human terror, than man a great meaningless catastrophe. Thomas Loch, a dock laborer, was working on a ship just beached near Wightown, when she keeled over and the bulwark fell on his chest. The tide was fast coming up, and it was evident that in an hour the wretched man would be drowned, unless the weight could be removed from his chest. All the place turned out to help, but the weight was immovable, and the tide flowed on remorselessly. A clergyman stepped into the water, and prayed with the unhappy victim. A napkin was at his request, placed over his face that he might not see the tide, and so, apparently without complaint, he lay until the waters closed over his head, while the townsmen gathered around in helplessness, sobbed their Exciting Scene in the Senate of the United States.

At the close of the Senate on Tuesday the 27th ult., an exciting scene occurred. A long debate ensued on the bill for the indemnification of the President and others for suspending the writ of habeas corpus, and acts done in pursuance thereof. Mr. Saulsbury, of Delaware, made a long speech, and was called to order several times. Finally, when censuring the course of the President of the United States, calling him imbecile, and calling him by name, the Vice President called him to order, and requested the Senator to take his seat.

Mr. Saulsbury continuing his remarks, the Vice President said that if the Senator did not take his seat he should order the Sergeant-at-Arms to take him in charge.

Mr. Saulsbury—Then the voice of freedom is not allowed in the American Senate.

Vice President—The Sergeant-at-Arms will take the Senator into custody.

The Sergeant-at-Arms then took the Senator in charge, and conducted him out of the Senate. Mr. Saulsbury displaying a revolver, which he took from his coat pocket. After a short time Mr. Saulbury came into the Senate again and began to speak.

Chair (Senator Clark in the chair)—The Senator will take his seat.

Mr. Saulsbury—Just as I please, not otherwise.

Mr. Sumner rose to a question of order. He said that the Senator from Delaware had been committed to the custody of the Sergeant-at-Arms, and yet he saw him on the floor of the Senate.

The Chair said the Senator was in the custody of the Sergeant-at-arms, and if he made further disturbance would be removed from the Senate.

Mr. Saulsbury then took his seat, shaking his fist and swearing at the Sergeant-at-arms and Mr. Sumner.

Mr. Clark, of New Hampshire, on Wednesday offered the following resolution:

Whereas, W. Saulsbury, a Senator from the State of Delaware, did, on the 27th inst., bring into the Senate a concealed weapon, and did then and there in the Senate behave in a turbulent and disorderly manner, and when the Government lay down its arms, and did there and then make threats to use said weapon upon the said Sergeant-at-arms, and in the presence of the Senate did draw the said weapon and threaten to shoot the said Sergeant-at-arms, and behaved in a manner disgraceful to the Senate and destruction of all order and decorum, therefore,

Resolved, That the said Willard Saulbury be and hereby is expelled from the Senate of the United States.

Mr. Saulsbury—I did not hear who it was that introduced that resolution.

Vice President—It was introduced by the Senator from New Hampshire.

Mr. Saulsbury—I have not a word to say in reference to the merit or demerit of that resolution. I have no favors to ask. It may be unbecoming my position and my character as a Senator of a sovereign State to say more upon the introduction of such a resolution as that, and, Sir, I will say no more. Let the Senate act as the Senate may see proper. I neither avow or disavow what is charged. Let the proof be made to the Senate, and let the Senate act according to its own judgment.

The resolution was laid over.

THE CHEERFUL WORD.—Little Charley was the dull boy of the school. All the rest either laughed at or pitied him. Even his master sometimes taunted him with his deficiencies.—He became sullen and indifferent, and took no pains to get on. One day a gentleman who was visiting the school looked over some boys that were making their first attempt to write.—There was a general burst of amusement at poor Charley's efforts. He colored, but was silent.

"Never mind, my lad," said the gentleman cheeringly, "don't be discouraged; just go on and do your very best, and you will be a brave writer some day. I recollect when I first began to write being quite as awkward as you are; but I persevered and look here." He took a pen and wrote his name on a piece of paper, in fine legible characters. "See what I can do now," he added.

Many years afterwards that gentleman met Charley again. He had turned out one of the most celebrated men of his day, and he expressed his firm conviction that he owed his success in life, under God's blessing, to the encouraging speech made by the school visitor.

ELECTION OF UNITED STATES SENATOR FROM VIRGINIA.—The Wheeling Intelligencer, of the 23d ult., says: "The legislature yesterday elected Judge Lemuel J. Bowden of Williamsburg (Eastern Virginia) Senator, to succeed Mr. Wiley, whose term expires the coming 4th of March. It may excite some surprise that Mr. Wiley was not re-elected, but it is sufficient to say that numerous letters were received by members of the two Houses from that gentleman positively declining to be a candidate for re-election.

The New General-in-Chief.

General Hooker, who relieves Gen. Burnside, is also well known, and although the principal incidents of his life have been frequently made public, we may be permitted to repeat them just now, when he rises before the world as the most responsible commander of any army now in the field. He graduated at West Point in July, 1837, and was appointed Lieutenant of Artillery. In 1841 he was selected as Adjutant of the Military Academy, which post he left to accept the honor of regimental Adjutant of the 1st Artillery. During the campaign of the Rio Grande he was aid-de-camp to General Hamer, and was brevetted Captain for his gallant services. In 1847 he was appointed an Assistant Adjutant General, with the rank of Captain. He received a brevet of Major for gallant services at the National Bridge, and of Lieutenant Col. for his services at Chepultepec. In 1853 he resigned and was for some atime in California. He, too, offered his services as soon as the war broke out, and has had a brilliant record since. His dashing valor was displayed at Williamsburg and in many of the Peninsula battles.

At Antietam he was wounded, and is reported to have said that he would rather have been shot through the head after the battle than through the foot while it was in progress. That he is brave needs no further illustrations; that he is self-reliant is equally demonstrable. He suggested to Burnside, on the 21st, to lay him cross his whole force at Richard's Ford, and move down rapidly to Saxton's Station—a brilliant but dangerous movement—which would have rendered Fredericksburg untenable, but which, owing to prudential considerations, connected with an expected rise in the Rappahannock and Rapidan, Burnside would not permit. Gen. Hooker is said to have great popularity with the army, among whom he is sometimes called "Fighting Joe."

SHARP RETORT.—Two young ladies were riding in a car. One of them, with features remarkable for a prominence of nose, exhibited to the other a photograph of herself, and they were engaged in discussing its merits when an elderly lady got in. After a while she reached out her hand, and said to the lady with the picture—

"Please to let me look at it?"

Her modest request was met with the indignant reply—

"It is none of your business."

The old lady settled back in her seat very complacently, when the companion of the one with the picture asked—

"What do you want with it?"

"Oh! nothing," replied the old lady; "I only wanted to see how successful the artist has put such a large nose on so small a picture."

MORE CONSERVATISM.—The rebel Patriot and Union, at Harrisburg, thus enunciates the latest doctrine forwarded on his own behalf by Jeff Davis:

"The administration is but a single branch of the Government, and when it errs—as Mr. Lincoln undoubtedly has—it is the duty of the people to set it right, by advice and admonition if they can; and if they cannot, then to weaken it by opposition, to overthrow it at the ballot box, and that failing—rather than submit to ruin or enthralment—to crush it by revolution."

This is precisely what the rebel leaders have been endeavoring to do for two years, and in which they will be ultimately successful if the government supinely contemplates the efforts to spread such anarchial doctrines.

DISTRESS IN IRELAND.—We take the following from a letter dated Dublin, Dec. 30:

The weavers in Ballymacarret, Belfast; the operatives and room keepers in the poorer districts of this, metropolis, the laborers driven into Drogheda and Dundalk and other towns for want of employment, and the multitudes in the South, West and North-west, that a late and insufficient harvest and a severe winter have reduced to miserable destitution, are all rising eight months, a citizen, imprisoned in our county jail for a debt which it is wholly out of his power to discharge, his creditors paying two dollars per week for his board and avowing their determination of continuing to do so during his life, unless the debt is discharged. It is clearly a persecution of an unfortunate man, and we are glad to learn that the matter is to be brought before the General Assembly, with the object of making a law to meet this and similar cases, if there is none at present existing.—Providence Press.

☞ A Western editor having his last shirt stolen, vents his rage as follows:

We would say to the rascal who stole the shirt off the line while we were in bed waiting for it to dry, that we sincerely hope the collar will cut his throat.

To this a contemporary adds:—Served him right; no business to have a shirt. Such luxuries! We expect next to hear of the extravagant fellow aspiring to wear stockings and beaver hats. Oh! the avarice, the unreasonableness of some folks.

A DELICATE MAN.—A country magistrate, noted for his love of the pleasure of the table, speaking to a friend said—

"We have just been eating a superb turkey; it was excellent, stuffed with truffes to the neck, tender, delicate, and of high flavor; we left only the bones."

"How many of you were there?" was asked.

"Two," replied the magistrate.

"Two?"

"Yes, the turkey and myself."

COUNTERFEIT POSTAGE CURRENCY.—We were shown, on Friday, a counterfeit fifty cent postage currency note, which the unsuspecting would be very likely to take. They are easily detected, however. The ink with which they are printed is darker, and has a dirty look; the paper is thinner, while the note itself is narrower. The engraving on the back is also narrower than on the genuine and the whole engraving coarser.—Philadelphia Ledger.

☞ Some music teacher once wrote that the "art of playing on a violin requires the nicest perception, and the most sensitive of any art in the known world." Upon which an editor comments in the following manner: "The art of publishing a newspaper, and making it pay, and at the same time have it please everybody, beats fidlin' high than a kite."

☞ The Charleston Mercury publishes a table in which in concedes the death, on the battle-field, in hospital etc., of one hundred thousand men since the war commenced.

☞ Why is Mount Vesuvius like a newspaper establishment? Because it sends forth volumes of smoke and volumes of gas.

☞ A woman is either worth a great deal or she is worth nothing.—If good for nothing, she is not worth getting jealous for; if she is a true woman, she will give no cause for jealousy. A man is a brute to be jealous of a good woman—a fool to be jealous of a worthless one; but he is a greater fool to cut his throat for either of them.

BEAVER ARGUS.

S. M. Pettengill & Co.,

No. 37 Park Row, N. Y., & 6 State st., Boston, are our Agents for the Argus in those cities, and are authorized to take Advertisements and Subscriptions for us at our Lowest Rates.

TO OUR PATRONS.

We make an earnest appeal to those of our subscribers who are in arrears for their paper, to come and pay up Now is the time. By so doing you can save Fifty Cents, as after the 1st of January we will charge all who have paid us nothing yet, Two Dollars.

After the 1st of January, 1863, we will also raise the price of advertising We are compelled to do this on account of the advance in paper. Paper that we paid $5,00 for last summer now costs us nearly $10,00. Our advertising rates will be as follows:

1 square, first insertion.....$0 75
Each subsequent insertion..... 0 25
Administrator's and Ex'rs Notices... 2 00

The Star will adopt the above rates of advertising, being compelled to do so from the same cause that we are. Almost all other papers in the country have increased the price of their subscription and advertising.

☞ The Star endorses and virtually commends the conduct of T. J. Boyer, the member of the House who became so indignant at Cameron because he would not buy him, that he published, what he pretends is a confession, but which in reality is a tissue of falsehoods. We would ask the Star who acted the meanest and most unmanly, even supposing Boyer statement true—Cameron, or the aforesaid Boyer? Can a man who, as he says himself, sold his vote for twenty thousand dollars, who goes voluntarily into a Republican caucus and pledges his honor to vote for Cameron if nominated, and then violate that pledge, can such a man, we say, be believed? Has a party, that imported bullies and assassins to overawe the Legislature, any room to cry "mean" to a single individual who is only charged with attempting to secure his own election in a peaceable way?

At Home.—Capt. C. W. May, of Co. F, 101st Regiment Penn. Vols, arrived at home on Saturday last, having resigned his position in the army. We publish elsewhere resolutions of respect passed by the officers of the regiment before his departure. They speak well for the Captain's standing in the [illegible] regiment, and was with it through all the Peninsula campaign until the retreat from Harrison's Landing; since which time he has been with the regiment at Suffolk, and lately at Newbern, North Carolina. He had command of the regiment for some months, embracing the seven days fighting and the retreat across the Peninsula. Although he was regarded by his superiors as one of the best officers in the Regiment, was the choice of the regiment for their commander, yet thro' the petty jealousy of one man the promotion for which he was twice recommended by the regiment, and his superior officers, was given to others. So palpable and unjust was his treatment that he was recommended to resign by an officer high in rank, through whose influence he was honorably discharged from the service. No officer of spirit could do otherwise than resign after the treatment he received. The Captain has a reputation in the regiment and at home that is better than promotion. He has seen, probably, more hard service for the time he was out, than any officer from Beaver county. Out of about ninety men enlisted, he left about thirty in the company, showing that they must have seen hard service.

☞ The following treasonable prayer was handed to us by a gentleman in this borough, stating that it had fallen into his hands accidentally, and that it was written in this place. We will not give the name of its author at this time. It will show, however, that we have traitors in our midst, and some who are slightly inclined to be somewhat pious in their treason Such hypocrisy is not uncommon.

O Lord of Hosts, and God of Power, real God of all gods, and Christ, ever-powerful, and Guard and Shield—hasten to help, and give to them all necessary Power. To all the Confederate forces in arms against the North, God give gongs of terror to them to frighten their Adversaries. Give to them ever to Conquer, and be Unconquerable, in this their days of trial. Let One Million of Angels aid them this day and forever, in all struggles for Liberty. Pay off to the North the debt of agony they have heaped on the South. Free them ever from Northern Rule Give to them Potent Foreign Aid. Help them, O Lord, in all manner of ways. God ever grant this, and all we ask in him his Prayer, for our Savior's sake.—Amen

☞ A bill passed the House of Representatives at Harrisburg, last week, to change the venue in the case of the Commonwealth versus Mrs. Barker et. al., for the concealment of the murderer Sheets, from Beaver to Fayette county. The argument used to secure its passage was, that a certain political journal in Beaver county had prejudiced the people against defendants. We do not recollect seeing anything in any of the County papers reflecting in any why on defendants, but we do recollect seeing a long and labored article in a certain political newspaper of the County striving to prejudice the minds of the people in favor of defendants. We presume it was only a mistake, and the latter is what was intended. It seems strange to us that the Legislature should interfere in this matter. Certainly no cause exists, and none is alleged sufficient, to require a change. There is no excitement here, no feeling against the parties, and if justice can be met ed out here in other criminal cases, why not in this? But if the change must be made, why take it to Fayette county? Why not Allegheny, Lawrence or Washington—some adjoining County? The county seat of Fayette county is difficult of access; many witnesses will be called, and the county put to an additional expenses of two or three thousand dollars. The changing to Fayette is evidence that the object is to defeat the ends of Justice entirely. Suppose the defendants were poor an unable to bring the same influence to bear, does any one suppose the Legislature would interfere, even supposing there was some ground for the change which in this case there is not? Is the Legislature convened to legislate for the educated or wealthy exclusively? It will soon, we presume, become impossible to bring any, except criminals of a certain class, to trial at all. We do not seek to prejudice the minds of the people, but we do think the change proposed an outrage upon the people of Beaver county, who will have to pay the additional expense—in this case a heavy expense. It originated among those who have been heard to say more than once that, they hoped there would be no conviction, guilty or not guilty! We know nothing of the guilt or innocence of the parties and will not, until we hear the evidence.—If guilty we believe they should suffer the penalty as much as the poor or illiterate. Law should know no difference.

[illegible] from Delaware, whose name stands at the head of this article. Mr. Saulsbury is what is termed a peace Democrat and one day last week he undertook to denounce the President, and the war, in terms of such unmeasured abuse, and with so much Billingsgate that he was very properly called to order by the Chair. Instead, however, of obeying he became tenfold more insolent, and when the Sergeant-at-arms, with his assistants, went up to remove him from the Senate Chamber, he became so violent that he knocked one of them down, and brandishing a pistol, threatened to shoot any one who might interfere with him. He was finally overpowered and carried to his room, where he was left to his ravings.

It is claimed in extenuation of the wretch, that he was drunk at the time, and that had he not imbibed too much sherry, he would not have been so uproarious; but the truth is, that the wine only unloosed his tongue, and he was so far thrown off his guard, that he let out his real sentiments If any of our readers desire to know where the leaders of the Butternuts are drifting let them read the account of the proceedings in the Senate.—What has our neighbor to say of his man Saulsbury? What does the editor think of his friend?

Painful Accident.—On last Tuesday evening, Mrs. Finley wife of Thomas Finley residing in Sharon, was painfully and dangerously burned by the explosion of a carbon oil lamp.—It appears that the lamp was accidentally upset, spilling the oil on Mrs. Finley's clothes and setting them on fire. She ran into the street and lay down in the snow and mud and succeeded in extinguishing the flames, but not until she was dangerously burned.—Star.

Cincinnati, Jan 30.—The House passed an amendment to the Military bill, instructing the Kentucky troops not enforce the President's proclamation—yeas 69, nays 18.

Harrisburg Correspondence.

Harrisburg, Jan. 31, 1863.

Mr. Editor: The Legislature met again at 7½ o'clock, P. M. and went through the usual routine. Nothing worthy of note transpired however, except appointing a Committee to visit Washington relative to a Navy Yard at League Island.

On Tuesday the Democrats, early in the morning, held a caucus and resolved to vote a unit on the question of paying the interest due 1st proximo, in coin. As the law now stands, the Banks in suspension must pay the expense attending that operation. At the present rates of gold it will cost, at least, as follows:

January 1, 1863.....	$ 10,200 03
February 1, "	477,035 41
July 1, "	17,000 00
August 1, "	477,035 41
	$981,270 91

The total Bank Capital of the State is, say in round numbers.....	25,500 000
Of this there are Banks which pretend to be specie-paying, and of course will be exempt, say.....	2,000,000
	23,500 000
Of this last item all the Banks in Philadelphia are ready to resume and will do so, representing capital of, say.....	12,000 000
Leaving only a capital of.....	11,500,000
Of the country Banks to pay the above item of expenses, within the next six months, of.....	981, 270 91

This would, on said capital of country Banks, be over 8½ per cent: No sane man will pretend that the country Banks can possibly do any such thing, and exist. The consequence will be that they will be compelled to wing up, scattering ruin and confusion broadcast over the State.

The honest, industrious and laboring classes will suffer. Jeff. Davis will be greatly aided in his treason and murder by the destruction of our Banks and the derangement of our industrial interests connected therewith. The shaving shops of the State will reap a rich harvest, as they think and hope, from the same causes.

These are melancholy reflections I am aware. It is impossible to resist the conclusion that this is part and parcel of the Hughes. Vallandigham and Seymour treason. True, there are some voting with that class who profess to be very loyal. I must, however, give every same man credit for intending to do what he really accomplishes.

After thinking over what they had done for a night, a few of the leaders discovered they had made a sad mistake. On Thursday a new and rational proposition was adopted. The State Treasurer was authorized to exchange currency with the Banks for same amount of coin sufficient to pay interest on Public Debt of Feb. 1st and and August 1st, 1863; certificates to be given therefor, bearing interest at 2½ per cent; the Banks to be relieved from the penalties of suspension till 1st March, 1861. Such is now the law. One good consequence will follow from this: [illegible] was engaged in expressing the admiration and sympathy of the majority for one Boileau, editor of a paper in Philadelphia, who has recently been arrested. The plan of Jeff. Davis's friends, in the House, is plainly shadowed forth—that if the Democratic brother should be captured, or otherwise fall into the hands of the U. S. Government, he must be sent before a Mississippi Grand Jury. Should not wonder if brother Hughes, Reed, or Vallandigham, would volunteer to go down and defend him.

Meeting of Officers of 101st Reg't Penn'a Voln'rs.

Whereas, Capt. Charles W. May of the 101st Reg't P. V. having tendered his resignation, has been honorably discharged from the service of the U. S. and,

Whereas, We the undersigned, commissioned officers, believe it due to give this expression of our appreciation of his conduct as an officer during his connection with the Reg't; therefore,

Resolved, That in Capt. Charles W. May, we have always found a brave, gallant and efficient officer, who never shirked duty nor danger, and also a sociable companion.

Resolved, That in taking leave of this Reg't, he carries with him our best wishes for his future success and happiness.

The list embraces the principal part of officers present with the Regiment.

Editor Argus: A political marplot in this [illegible] individual whose name [illegible] by the editor of the [illegible] your place the worst [illegible] or be [illegible] by [illegible] tion, which [illegible] as in matters of others, there are not only two sides to a story but that the individual in question has as little real cause of complaint as any other person who has effected a disposition to enter the military service. Under standing that he and a particular set have been almost incessantly harping upon his alleged grievances, which are laid by them to the account of politics, it may be regarded as fortunate that this clamor has at length been aired in the columns of a newspaper, which affords the opportunity of publicly branding the calumniators of those whose only thought and effort is to sustain the cause of the country, and of presenting the case fairly to the people.

The assertion is distinctly made that Donehoo was elected Colonel of the 17th Pennsylvania Cavalry, but was refused a commission by the Governor, for the reason that he voted the Democratic ticket;—further, that the Governor promised promotion to Donehoo, which remains unfulfilled.

To understand this matter properly, it will be necessary to state some facts which occurred anterior to the commencement of Capt. Donehoo's military campaign. A year ago an opinion prevailed among military leaders that our Cavalry service was not what it should be—that it was unequal to that of the enemy,—and needed re-organization. A defect was alleged to exist in the regimental officers, that these were mostly civilians, without experience, like Capt. Donehoo, and unfitted to meet the partizan leaders of the rebellion. The Secretary of War made an appeal to Gov. Curtin to raise three Cavalry regiments, such as would do honor to Pennsylvania, and give efficiency to this branch of the service. The Governor promptly responded his willingness to make the effort, with the distinct understanding however, that he should be permitted to select the regimental officers from the regular army, and men who had seen service as Cavalry officers. The regiments were raised, and were organized by the Governor in strict accordance with the understanding with the War Department. The first of these was the 16th Pa. Cavalry, over which Col. Irwin Gregg was placed in command. The Colonel served with gallantry in the Mexican war;—was a Captain in the three months service;—at the end of that term, on his return home, immediately organized an infantry regiment, of which he was chosen Colonel. Shortly after, about Sept. 1861, he was appointed a Captain of Cavalry in the regular army, which post he held in active and acceptable service in the field, until invited to his present command. Such a record, whose lives and souls are bound up in the great work of saving to us a country, he also never uttering a word in condemnation of Jeff. Davis and his wicked confederate crew.

The next regiment organized by the Governor, was the 17th Pa. Cavalry, of which Donehoo, a mere civilian, aspired to the Colonelcy. Col. Kellogg was assigned to the position. He was a graduate of West Point, had been in the regular Cavalry service for several years, and bears the reputation of a brave and skilful officer. To stamp falsehood upon the Star's article throughout, it is only necessary to state the fact that Col. Kellogg is and always has been a Democrat,—yet, unlike some others who profess the name, always loyal to the cause of his country. If the Governor, as is alleged, passed over Donehoo because he was a Democrat, it is very remarkable, is it not, that he should place another Democrat in the coveted position.—Some who only know Donehoo, may think the Governor could not have made a mistake,—they who know both the men are very certain he did.

The third Cavalry regiment organized was the Pa. 18th, over which Col. Bryan was placed in command.—He was also a West Point graduate, of long experience in the service, and a member of the Democratic party

The case might be left here, to the mortification, one would think, of Donehoo's friends; but a few items additional may not be out of place.

Previous to the organization of the 17th Cavalry by the Governor, who alone had that authority, at the instance of some very patriotic men who were ambitious to reach posts of distinction, the line officers of the regiment, before any one of them had received a commission, and without any knowledge of the arrangement existing between the Governor and the War Office, went through the form of an election, which had in it no force or authority whatever, to recognize which would have defeated the purpose in view, which was alone to give greater efficiency to the Cavalry service. At this informal election, Capt. Donehoo was chosen Colonel, and Mr. M'Callister Lieut. Colonel. Return was made to the Governor, when he advised Mr. Donehoo of his special arrangement with the Secretary of War, which precluded the possibility of his receiving a commission as Colonel of Cavalry, that he could not appoint any civilian to that position, a necessary pre-requisite being experience in the cavalry service. When this explanation was made to Donehoo, he expressed his satisfaction, stating that he would rather act as Captain under an experienced officer who had seen service, than be in command himself,—a very sensible remark from which it is very foolish or wicked to depart.

The Governor subsequently proposed to commission Donehoo a Lieut. Colonel in the regiment, and make Mr. McCallister [illegible] and [illegible] [illegible] and by the officers) a Major. McCallister generously and promptly agreed to the arrangement, unlike Donehoo, willing to do anything honorable to [illegible] and serve his [illegible] Donehoo finding going home, the proposition was sent to him by [illegible] he promptly responding a decided [illegible] with the remark that he would be Colonel or nothing, and nothing it is, and will so remain.

Subsequently Donehoo returned to Harrisburg, when the Governor, really desirous of seeing him, stated that most probably a vacancy would soon occur in the regiment and that he should be promoted, looking alone, however, to active military service. His resignation of his Captaincy shortly thereafter, was a very practical refusal of this proposition; and certainly no man of common sense, after that step taken by him, would expect the Governor to follow him to the walks of private life, to tender him service of any kind.

When the line officers called upon the Governor, and were made to understand the original understanding as to the organization of these three Cavalry regiments, they all expressed themselves entirely satisfied.

That the men of Donehoo's company were dissatisfied with his course and movement, I believe to be true. He had pledged himself at the beginning to stay with them as Captain; yet on his resignation, and the promotion of Lieut. James Q. Anderson, of Beaver, they all felt that they had gained much by the change;—the difference in the attention of the two men to the wants of the company standing in marked contrast,—one almost always away seeking promotion;—the other remaining there as yet closely with his men, laboring to secure to them every possible comfort.

There is much more to be said, but this communication is being drawn out to too great a length. They who are cognizant of all the facts in the case are well aware that the public authorities at Harrisburg did more to enable Mr. Donehoo to enter the service in his untimely application, and to make him comfortable when in it, than was experienced by any other Captain in the Commonwealth. From the beginning, many believed his disposition was not to serve his country; but only to attain a position which would enable him to find fault, and grumble. If he is proud of his peculiar laurels of martyrdom, let him wear them. Vindex.

Washington, Jan. 30—It is said that a dispatch reached Washington from Gen. Dix, at Fortress Monroe, to-day, stating that he had been informed by telegraph from Gen. Peck, in command of our forces on the Blackwater, that in an interview which had just taken place between that officer and the rebel Gen Pryor, who commands the rebel force facing [illegible] Pryor stated that he had information of a very [illegible] Major General Franklin, bearing that allegations of tardiness and inefficiency in his late command had been made against him (to Government asked to have a court martial assembled for his trial under them immediately upon being relieved from duty with the Army of the Potomac, and that it has been determined to accede to his request.

Nashville, Tenn., Jan. 29 1863.

A fleet of 20 transports and three gunboats, the Lexington, St. Clair and Brilliant, arrived this morning.—The former reconnoitering above the shoals, was attacked by 200 Guerrillas with three six-pounders.

The boat was struck three times, but not damaged. She returned the fire and shelled them from their position The fleet was not interrupted. The gunboats, with eight unloaded steamers, left for Clarksville at 6 p. m.

Roanoke Island, Jan. 20.—Elizabeth City is now held by the U. S. forces. One company of the 1st North Carolina loyal regiment, and one hundred negroes, are doing garrison and picked duty at that point.

Jeff. Davis, last week, had a conference with Governor Vance, of North Carolina, upon the relations of this State with the Southern Confederacy, meeting him for that purpose at Franklin depot, Va., on the Blackwater river. Governor Vance plainly informed President Davis that North Carolina would insist upon the reserve and recall of an adequate force for the protection of North Carolina from any further Union advance. The State has now eighty thousand troops in the rebel service. Many applications are being made for authority to raise native loyal troops. General Foster strongly approves of doing this.

Chicago, Jan 29, 1863.

A special from Cairo says that information has been received that Gen M'Clernand's forces have landed on the Louisiana side of the Mississippi River, five miles below the mouth of the Yazoo, and in full view of the City of Vicksburg.

Two brigades were engaged when the informant left, in opening the famous "cut off" which is to make Vicksburg no longer a port of entry.

The river is now bank full at Vicksburg.

Washington, Jan. 29—Senate: Mr. Saulsbury, of Del., said:—Mr. President, I wish to say a few words which I deem proper on the subject of certain charges against me, and to express regret at what occurred on Tuesday evening last in the Senate. I regret the violation of the rules of this body. I had no disposition and no desire to violate them, and upon that occasion it I said anything offensive to any Senator, I extremely regret it. In reference to the matter of the pistol I deem it due to myself to say that I am not in the habit of wearing arms. I never wore arms a month in all my life, and I would have much sooner injured myself than to have injured the Sergeant at Arms or any Senator on the floor, and therefore I think it due my own manhood thus to make this statement. I do not do it to influence the Senate in its action on the resolution now before it, but upon a principle which always governed my action in life, that when I am satisfied I have done wrong, to make all the reparation I can; and now I say to any individual here that if upon that occasion I used, toward him, any discourteous language I regret it.

Mr. Clark—I came to the Senate this morning with a determination to call up the resolution I introduced yesterday, for I thought it due to the Senate and country that prompt action should be had upon it; but upon the statement of the Senator from Delaware, I will not call it up, but take advice of Senators older than myself, and then take such as I am advised.

Newbern, Jan. 26, 1863.

Gov. Stanly's resignation was sent hence to Washington by the last mail. It is based upon the President's Emancipation Proclamation, which he strenuously opposes.

The Army and Navy, and Union citizens here are strongly averse to the appointment of a successor as the office is not only universally regarded as needless, but a serious obstacle to the progress of arms. A strong movement is on foot here for the establishment of a provisional Court at Newbern similar to that established at New Orleans.

The appointment of A. Scott Sloan of Wisconsin, is powerfully urged.—The President and Members of Congress have already been memoralized on the subject.

Washington, Feb. 2.—The following dispatch was received to-day by the Navy Department from Fortress Monroe: A bearer of dispatches, who left Port Royal, Friday noon, says there is no truth in the report of the Montauk being disabled at Ft. M'Alister. Commander Worden lay under the enemy's fire four hours to try his vessel. The balls had no more effect on her than so many hail-stones. Nothing had been heard of the capture of the gunboat Smith in the Stone River when the dispatch messenger left.

Cairo, Feb. 1.—The guerrillas continue active in the vicinity of Memphis. A detachment of the 14th Illinois cavalry had a skirmish on Tuesday with a squad of rebels Federal loss, seven killed, wounded and missing.

The Bulletin says the rebels are advancing on our lines as fast as the condition of the roads will allow—their object being to get possession of the Tennessee and Cumberland rivers.

An accident occurred on the railroad near Moscow on Thursday. Four freight cars were precipitated down the foot of an embankment, killing four soldiers.

From Vicksburg we learn that the water is running through the cut-off from three to four feet deep, and there is yet no signs of the channel widening. A considerable force crossed the bend, and are now encamped opposite Warrenton, in order to communicate more rapidly with the force from below when it arrives.

A special dispatch to the New York Herald says: Gen. Rosecrans' Department has been extended so as to include Forts Donaldson and Henry, and Clarksville, Tenn. Gen Buford, it is said, will go in General Grant's army, and take a command in the field.

☞ The editor of the Springfield (Mass.) Republican says he has a receipt, signed by Nathaniel P Banks in 1836, for money received by him from Sargent M. Davis, of Roxbury, Mass., in whose employ he then was a machinist, at $1.33 per day. The same Nathaniel P. Banks, since that time, has been Governor of Massachusetts, Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, and pronounced the most accomplished, with a single exception (Henry Clay), that ever held that place—and is now a Major General in the United States army, and in command of the Federal forces at New Orleans.

The attack on Vicksburg.—The official report of Gen. Sherman, on file in the War Department, gives a clear history of the late attack on Vicksburg, and shows that it was made strictly in accordance with orders from Gen. Grant, at the very time and in the very manner directed. Gen. Sherman was ignorant of the causes of Holly Springs, and the retreat of Grant, but acted upon the supposition and previous arrangement is that Gen. Grant should advance upon Pemberton, and keep him occupied, while Banks was to come up the river. The attack was made with great gallantry, and would have been successful but for the large reinforcements the enemy was able to send to Vicksburg. Gen. M'Clernand, on his arrival outranked Gen. Sherman as the Major General of older date, and both were acting under Gen. Grant, in pursuance of a plan formed before the expedition moved from Memphis. There is entire harmony among the principal officers, and good spirits among the men; and they are confident of taking Vicksburg, and opening the Mississippi.

☞ The suppression of the Philadelphia Journal, and the arrest of the editor by the Provost Marshal, has created a great excitement in Pennsylvania. Judge Ludlow, the Philadelphia Quarter Sessions, has requested the Grand Jury to stop all other business, inquire into the facts, and report to the Court. In the Legislature Senate resolutions were offered authorizing the Governor to go to Washington and demand his release. They were referred to the Committee on Federal Relations. An effort to take the matter out of the Committee's hands was unsuccessful. It is alleged that the immediate cause of the long editorial article on the Message of Jeff Davis, praising it as [illegible] worthy, truthful and [illegible] all in these respects contrasting Davis with President Lincoln, the latter being in this connection made the subject of gross and foul personal abuse.

Unknown Enemies Afoot.—We learn, that as the train from Savannah to this city was on its way yesterday, a large log was discovered thrown across the track, near Coosawhatchie, with the evident intention of throwing the cars off and perilling the lives of those on board. No clue of the villainous perpetrator of this outrage has been arrived at, but a sharp look out will be kept, and if the guilty wretch is discovered, it may lead to summary punishment.—Charleston Courier, Jan. 6th.

Frauds to be Investigated.—The Judge Advocate General has taken preliminary steps for a full investigation of the alleged frauds connected with the Quartermaster's Department at Philadelphia. The testimony in part has already been procured.—The transactions relate to tents, caps, clothing and other supplies, shoddy entering largely, it is said, into the contract. The report states that frauds at large figure in the aggregate several millions.

A Mutinous Regiment.—It was announced some days ago that the 109th Illinois regiment, with Gen. Grant in Mississippi, had mutinied.—A correspondent says: This regiment is one of the three K. G. IMPORTANT TO FEMALES.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS

THE combination of ingredients in these Pills are the result of a long and extensive practice. They are mild in their operation, and certain in correcting all irregularities, painful menstruations, removing all obstructions, whether from cold or otherwise, headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, whites, all nervous affections, fatigue, hysterics, pain in the back and limbs, etc., disturbed sleep, which arise from interruption of nature.

Dr Cheeseman's Pills

was the commencement of a new era in the treatment of those irregularities and obstructions which have consigned so many to a PREMATURE GRAVE. No female can enjoy good health unless she is regular, and whenever an obstruction takes place the general health begins to decline.

Dr. Cheeseman's Pills

are the most effectual remedy known for all complaints peculiar to Females. To all classes they are invaluable, inducing, with certainty, periodical regularity. They are known to thousands, who have used them at different periods, throughout the country, having the sanction of some of the most eminent Physicians in America.

Explicit directions, stating when they should not be used, with each Box—the Price One Dollar per Box, containing from 50 to 60 Pills.

Pills sent by mail, promptly, by remitting to, the Proprietor. Dr. Smith of Bridgewater, sole agent for this County.

GERMANTOWN TELEGRAPH.

A Family and an Agricultural Journal,

DEVOTED TO

CHOICE LITERATURE,

INCLUDING

Poetry, Novelettes, Tales,

AND MORAL AND ENTERTAINING READING GENERALLY.

In the Literary Department we shall present the choicest varieties within the reach of our extended means. The Novelettes, Tales, Poetry, &c., shall be supplied from the best and highest sources, and be equal to anything to be found in any journal or magazine.

Agriculture and Horticulture,

EMBRACING

Farming, Gardening, Fruit-Raising, &c.

In all their branches, as conducted on the latest and most approved system.

Our labors in this department for over thirty years, have met the cordial approbation of the public. Our purpose has been to furnish useful and reliable information upon these very important branches of industry, and to protect them so far as within our power against the false doctrines and selfish purposes of the many empires and sensation-adventurers by which the Farmer is incessantly assailed. This portion of the Germantown Telegraph will alone be worth the whole price of subscription, as every Farmer and Gardener, who has a proper conception of his calling, will readily admit.

NEWS DEPARTMENT.

The same industry, care, and discrimination, in gathering and preparing the Stirring Events of the Day, expressly for this paper, which has so long been one of its marked features and given so universal satisfaction, will be continued with redoubled efforts to meet the increasing demands of the public. The labor required in this department is never fully appreciated by the reader. It would be impossible to present, the condensed and carefully made-up form in which it appears, a corrected mass of all the most interesting news of the week, without involving much physical labor, tact and judgment.

We annex the cash terms to which we beg leave to call attention of all who think of subscribing for a newspaper:

Advance Cash Terms.

One copy, one year, $2; one copy, three years, $5,00; three copies, one year, $5,00; Five Copies, One Year, $8,00; Ten Copies, One Year, $15,00; Twenty Copies, One Year, $28,00.

☞ Subscription not paid within the year, $2,50.

☞ A Club of five subscribers, at $8, will entitle the person getting it up to a copy for six months; a Club of ten or more, to a copy for one year. All Club subscriptions stopped at the end of the time paid for, unless re-ordered.

☞ No order will receive attention unless accompanied with the cash.

☞ Specimen numbers sent to applicants.

NEW BRIGHTON RETREAT.

AN ASYLUM FOR THE RECEPTION, CURE AND TREATMENT OF MENTAL ALIENATION OR DISORDER.

And Other

Nervous and Chronic Diseases.

EXCLUSIVELY FOR FEMALES.

THIS institution is now open for the reception, care, and treatment of the independent class of patients who are laboring under mental derangement or other nervous and chronic disease. We make special mention of nervous and chronic diseases, from the fact that seven-tenths of the female patients that are committed to our public Asylums, to be treated for disordered minds, are reduced to that lamentable condition through previous physical disorder. By a well timed and judicious treatment of chronic and nervous diseases, all physical disorders, in the majority of cases may be removed; and this the mind, having suffered through the medium of the body, will when free from the exciting physical cause, throw off the shackles that has bound it to worse than midnight darkness, and reason will, once more, resume its sway, clothed in all its primitive purity and wonted excellence. Hence the necessity of all those, who are laboring under the predisposing or exciting causes, calculated in the end to impair the mind to resort to an early and judicious course of remedial agents.

The Institution is a large brick building with a stone basement—four stories high and well ventilated. It is situated on an elevated table land which commands a view of entire town—adjacent hills—groves and neighboring streams; all of which are calculated to produce favorable impressions upon the disordered mind.

The Institution is complete in all of its appointments. Having been tastefully fitted up at great expense, in order that it may meet the approbation and views of the most fastidious.

The water closets and bathing apparatus have been gotten up upon the most approved modern scientific principles. This department embraces not only the ordinary baths, but, also, the medicated, warm air and ascending and descending douche for the more effectual and successful treatment of cutaneous and other scrofulous diseases.

We beg leave to say to all those who may be disposed to commit the interests of a dear wife, sister or daughter, to our charge—may be assured that no means will be spared or efforts wanting on our part to ameliorate their condition or to effect a restoration to their accustomed health and vigor of mind.

For further particulars send for a circular. All communications should be addressed to.

FRIENDS AND RELATIVES

OF THE

BRAVE SOLDIERS AND SAILORS.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS

And Ointment.

ALL WHO have Friends and Relatives in the Army or Navy, should take especial care that they be amply supplied with these Pills and Ointment; and where the brave Soldiers and Sailors have neglected to provide themselves with them, no better present can be sent them by their friends. They have been proved to be the Soldier's never-failing friend in the hour of need.

COUGHS AND COLDS AFFECTING TROOPS

Will be speedily removed and effectually cured by using these admirable medicines, and by paying proper attention to the Directions which are attached to each Pot or Box.

SICK HEADACHES AND WANT OF APPETITE INCIDENTAL TO SOLDIERS.

These feelings which so sadden us, usually arise from trouble or annoyances, obstructed perspiration, or eating and drinking whatever is unwholesome, thus disturbing the healthful action of the liver and stomach. These organs must be relieved, if you desire to be well. The Pills, taking according to the printed instructions, will quickly a produce a healthy action in both liver and stomach, and as a natural consequence a clear head and good appetite.

WEAKNESS OR DEBILITY INDUCED BY OVER FATIGUE.

Will soon disappear by the use of these invaluable Pills, and the Soldier will quickly acquire additional strength. Never let the bowels be either confined or unduly acted upon. It may seem strange that Holloway's Pills should be recommended for Dysentery and Flux, many persons supposing that they would increase the relaxation. This is a great mistake, for these Pills will correct the liver and stomach and thus remove all the acrid humors from the system. This medicine will give tone and vigor to the whole organic system however deranged, while health and strength follow as a matter of course. Nothing will stop the relaxation of the Bowels so sure as this famous medicine.

VOLUNTEERS ATTENTION! INDISCRETIONS OF YOUTH.

Sores and Ulcers, Blotchings and Swellings, can with certainty be radically cured if the Pills are taken night and morning, and the ointment be freely used as stated in the printed instructions. If treated in any other manner they dry up in one part to break out in another. Whereas this Ointment will remove the humors from the system and leave the Patient a vigorous and healthy man. It will require a little perseverance in bad cases to insure a lasting cure.

FOR WOUNDS EITHER OCCASIONED BY THE BAYONET, OR SABRE OR THE BULLET, SORES OR BRUISES.

To which every Soldier and Sailor are liable there are no medicines so safe, sure and convenient as Holloway's Pills and ointment. The poor wounded and almost dying sufferer might have his wounds dressed immediately, if he would only provide himself with this matchless Ointment, which should be thrust into the wound and smeared all around it, then covered with a piece of linen from his knapsack, and compressed with a handkerchief. Taking night and morning 6 or 8 Pills, to cool the system and prevent inflamation.

Every Soldier's knapsack and Seaman's chest should be provided with these valuable Remedies.

CAUTION.—None are genuine unless the words "Holloway, New York and London," are discernable as a water-mark in every leaf of the book of directions around each pot or box; the same may be plainly seen by holding the leaf to the light. A handsome reward will be given to any one rendering such information as may lead to the detection of any party or parties counterfeiting the medicines or vending the same, knowing them to be spurious.

☞ Sold at the Manufactory of Professor HOLLOWAY, 80 Maiden Lane, New York, and by all respectable Druggists and Dealers in Medicines, throughout the civilized world, in boxes at 25 cents, 62 cents and $1 each.

☞ There is considerable saving by taking the larger sizes.

N. B.—Directions for the guidance of patients in every disorder are affixed to each box. May 1.

MARRIAGE.

ITS loves and hates, sorrows and angers, hopes and fears, regrets and joys; MANHOOD, how lost, how restored; the nature, treatment and radical cure of spermatorrhœa or seminal weakness; involuntary emissions, sexual debility and impediments to marriage generally; nervousness, consumption, fits, mental and physical incapacity, resulting from SELF-ABUSE—are fully explained in the MARRIAGE GUIDE, by WM. YOUNG, M. D. This most extraordinary book should be in the hands of every young person contemplating marriage, and every man or woman who desires to limit the number of their offspring to their circumstances. Every pain, disease and ache incidental to youth, maturity and old age, is fully explained; every particle of knowledge that should be known is here given. It is full of engravings. In fact, it discloses secrets that every one should know; still it is a book that must be locked up, and not lie about the house. It will be sent to any one on the receipt of twenty-five cents in specie or postage stamps.

Address DR. WM. YOUNG, 416 Spruce st., above Fourth, Philadelphia.

☞ Afflicted and Unfortunate, no matter what may be your disease, before you place yourself under the care of any of the notorious Quacks—native or foreign—who advertise in this or any other paper, get a copy of Dr. Young's book, and read it carefully. It will be the means of saving you many a dollar, your health, and possibly your life.

DR. YOUNG can be consulted on any of the diseases described in his publication, at his office, 416 Spruce Street, above Fourth, Philadelphia.

CHERRY PECTORAL,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

Colds, Coughs, and Hoarseness.

BRIDGEPORT, MASS., 30th Dec., 1861.

DR. J. C. AYER: I do not hesitate to say the best remedy I have ever found for Coughs, Hoarseness, Influenza, and the concomitant symptoms of a Cold, is your CHERRY PECTORAL. Its constant use in my practice and my family for the last two years has shown it to possess superior virtues for the treatment of these complaints. HENRY KNIGHT, M. D.

A. B. MORTLEY, Esq., of Dyer, N. Y., writes: "I have used your Pectoral myself and in my family ever since you invented it, and believe it the best medicine for its purposes ever put out. With a bad cold I should sooner pay twenty-five dollars for a bottle than do without it, or take any other remedy."

Croup, Whooping Cough, Influenza.

SPRINGFIELD, MASS., Feb. 7, 1856.

DEAR SIR: I will cheerfully certify your Pectoral is the best remedy we possess for the cure of whooping cough, croup, and the chest diseases of children. We of your fraternity in the South appreciate your skill, and commend your medicine to our people.

HIRAM CONKLIN, M. D.

AMOS LEE, Esq., MONTREAT, IA., writes, 3d Jan., 1856: "I had a tedious Influenza, which confined me in doors six weeks; took many medicines without relief; finally tried your Pectoral by the advice of our clergyman. The first dose relieved the soreness in my throat and lungs; less than one half the bottle made me completely well. Your medicines are the cheapest as well as the best we can buy, and we esteem you, Doctor, and your remedies, as the poor man's friend."

Asthma or Phthisic, and Bronchitis.

WEST MANCHESTER, PA., Feb. 4, 1856.

SIR: Your Cherry Pectoral is performing marvellous cures in this section. It has relieved several from alarming symptoms of consumption, and is now curing a man who has labored under an affection of the lungs for the last forty years. HENRY L. PARKS, Merchant.

A. A. RAMSEY, M. D., ALBION, MONROE CO., IOWA, writes, Sept. 6, 1855: "During my practice of many years, I have found nothing equal to your Cherry Pectoral for giving ease and relief to consumptive patients, or curing them, in any case."

We might add volumes of evidence, but the most convincing proof of the virtues of this remedy is found in its effects upon trial.

Consumption.

Probably no one remedy has ever been known which cured so many and such dangerous cases as this. Some no human aid can reach; but even to those the Cherry Pectoral affords relief and comfort.

ASTOR HOUSE, NEW YORK CITY, March 5, 1856.

DOCTOR AYER, LOWELL: I feel it a duty and a pleasure to inform you what your Cherry Pectoral has done for my wife. She had been five months laboring under the dangerous symptoms of Consumption, from which no aid we could procure gave her much relief. She was steadily declining, until Dr. Strong, of this city, where we have come for advice, recommended a trial of your medicine. We bless his kindness, as we do your skill; for she has recovered from that day. She is not yet as strong as she used to be, but is free from her cough, and calls herself well.

Yours with gratitude and regard,

ORLANDO SHELBY, of SELLERSVILLE.

Consumptives, do not despair till you have tried AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It is made by one of the best medical chemists in the world, and its cures all around us bespeak the high merits of its virtues.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.

THE sciences of Chemistry and Medicine have been taxed their utmost to produce this best, most perfect, purgative which is known to man. Innumerable proofs are shown that these PILLS have virtues which surpass in excellence the ordinary medicines, and that they win unprecedentedly upon the esteem of all men. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. Their penetrating properties stimulate the vital activities of the body, remove the obstructions of its organs, purify the blood, and expel disease. They purge out the foul humors which breed and grow distemper, stimulate sluggish or disordered organs into their natural action, and impart healthy tone with strength to the whole system. Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also formidable and dangerous diseases that have baffled the best of human skill. While they produce powerful effects, they are at the same time, in diminished doses, the safest and best physic that can be employed for children. Being sugar-coated, they are pleasant to take; and being purely vegetable, are free from any risk of harm. Cures have been made which surpass belief were they not substantiated by men of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspicion of untruth. Many eminent clergymen and physicians have lent their names to certify to the public the reliability of my remedies, while others have sent me the assurance of their conviction that my Preparations contribute immensely to the relief of my afflicted, suffering fellow-men.

The Agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing directions for their use and certificates of their cures, of the following complaints:—

Costiveness, Bilious Complaints, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Heartburn, Headache arising from a foul stomach, Nausea, Indigestion, Morbid Inaction of the Bowels and Pain arising therefrom, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, all Ulcerous and Cutaneous Diseases which require an evacuant medicine, Scrofula or King's Evil. They also, by purifying the blood and stimulating the system, cure many complaints which it would be supposed they could reach, such as Deafness, Partial Blindness, Neuralgia and Nervous Irritability, Derangements of the Liver and Kidneys, Gout, and other kindred complaints arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions.

Do not be put off by unprincipled dealers with some other pill they make more profit on. Ask for AYER'S PILLS, and take nothing else. No other they can give you compares with this in its intrinsic value or curative powers. The sick want the best aid there is for them, and they should have it.

Practical and Analytical Chemist, Lowell, Mass.

CRITTENDEN'S
PHILADELPHIA COMMERCIAL

COLLEGE,

N. E. corner of 7th & Chestnut St.,

PHILADELPHIA, PA.

THIS Institution, which was established in 1844, and is now consequently in the eighteenth year of its existence, numbers among its graduates, hundreds of the most successful Merchants and Business Men of our Country.

The object of the Institution is solely to afford young men facilities for thorough preparation for business.

The branches taught are, Book-keeping, as applicable to the various departments of trade; Penmanship, both plain and ornamental; Commercial Law, mathematics, Navigation, Civil Engineering, Drawing, Phonography, and Modern Languages.

The system of Instruction is peculiar; no classes or set lessons are made use of, but each student is taught individually, so that he may commence at any time, and attend at whatever hours are most convenient.

Catalogues are issued annually after the 15th of April, containing names of the students for the year, and full particulars of terms, &c., and may be obtained at any time by addressing the Principal.

In extensive accommodations, wide-spread reputation, and the lengthy experience of the Principal, this Institution offers facilities superior to any other in the country, for young men wishing to prepare for business, and to obtain at the same time A DIPLOMA, which will prove a recommendation for them to any Mercantile House.

☞ CRITTENDEN'S Series of Treatises on Book-Keeping, now more widely circulated than any other work on the subject, are for sale at the College.
